

The mass media is too capable of dis-information on a wide scale; let individual media speak individually.